

To celebrate the launch of an exciting new exhibition at the Science Museum, Metro is previewing the Museum's four alien zones...

ZONE 3: ALIEN WORLDS.

Would you like to walk on an alien world and interact with the little green men in their own environment? Experts have imagined the kind of life that could evolve on two fictional, but scientifically credible, worlds - Aurelia and Blue Moon. Giant interactive landscapes enable you to interact with the creatures, learn more about them and influence their behaviour, making them hide, hunt and move around their planets, before triggering world-altering global events. This is the first time it will be seen in Britain.

Today, we are offering you the chance of a private tour of the Alien Exhibition given by one of the curators this Friday at 12.30pm and 1pm. There are 60 spaces available, so call 0870 870 4868 to book your place today!
