SCIENCE NIGHT

Camper survival guide

So you're coming to Science Night! We're looking forward to seeing you, but before you get here please read this sheet and make sure your parents or guardians read it too – it will tell you more about what will happen on the night.

What do I bring?

Everybody needs:

- Sleeping bag
- Toothbrush
- Packed evening snack
- Water bottle

You may want to bring some money for the shop. Get your group leaders to keep it safe until you need it.

Please do not bring:

- Heelys
- Cameras
- Mobile phones
- Torches
- Camp beds
- Radios
- iPods

It is your responsibility to look after your belongings. If you lose or damage something, the Museum cannot be held responsible. This includes during the night while you are asleep.

What will I eat?

Please remember to bring your packed evening snack to Science Night as you cannot buy food on the night.

There will be water fountains throughout the Museum for you to fill up your water bottles.

What will I be doing?

Science Night is an all-night extravaganza with a twist and we have lots of fun activities, shows and workshops planned for you. But don't worry, all will be revealed on the night!

Where will I sleep?

You will be sleeping on the floor amongst our objects! We will provide you with a thin camping mat to sleep on.

Boys and girls have separate sleeping areas, but you will still be in the same gallery.

What time does Science Night start and finish?

Science Night starts at 18.45 and finishes at 10.00 the following day.

If you are being picked up before 12.00 on the day after Science Night, your parent or guardian should meet you at the Imperial College Road entrance (Group Entrance) at the side of the Museum.

What if there is an emergency?

If there is an emergency back home and you need to contact us on the night, please call our Control Room on 020 7942 4444 – only use this number in emergencies.

For more information, visit sciencemuseum.org.uk/educators

Courses - Resources - Visits - Products - Outreach - Science Night - 3D IMAX Films - Exhibitions - Events - Science Museum Clubs